

Starting presentations determiners practice

Fill the gaps below with a/ an/ the/ any/ my/ or – (nothing). Sometimes more than one answer is possible.

Hi, everyone, I'm _____ Dominique Lagrange. Good to see you all.

If there's anything you're not clear about, go ahead and ask _____ questions you want.

_____ talk is in three parts. I'll start with _____ background to _____ campaign, move onto _____ media we plan to use, and finish with _____ storyboard for _____ commercial.

On behalf of myself and _____ Focus Advertising, I'd like to welcome you.

I'm going to tell you about _____ ideas we've come up with for _____ ad campaign.

This morning, I'd like to outline _____ campaign concept we've developed for you.

I've divided _____ presentation into three parts. Firstly, I'll give you _____ background to _____ campaign. Secondly, I'll discuss _____ media we plan to use. Finally, I'll talk you through _____ storyboard for _____ TV commercial.

If you have _____ questions, please don't hesitate to interrupt me.

Listen and check

Match the pairs of sentences that are used in the same part of the presentation.

What are the differences between each pair of sentences?

Which sentence is more formal and which sentence is more informal?

Listen to a formal and informal presentation and check your answers.

Using the lines above, stand up and give the introductions to the presentations.

Do the introductions again, but changing the details.

Do the introductions again, but without looking at your worksheet.