

Past continuous and Used to bluff
Worksheet 1- Sentence completion

Fill in at least half of the sentences below with a mixture of truth and imagination. Read out one of the sentences, and after asking you additional questions (to which you should continue to answer from reality or your imagination) your partner will guess whether it is true or false

I accidentally hit someone while _____

I last cried while _____

The last time I shouted was while _____

I last got angry while _____

I met my (ex) boyfriend/ girlfriend/ husband/ wife while _____

I was robbed while _____

I was shouted at while _____

I was insulted while _____

I was criticized while _____

I was arrested while _____

I lost something valuable while _____

I last felt nauseous (= felt sick) while _____

I first felt like an adult while _____

I first/ last spent 500,000 won while _____

I used to _____ until I was ten

I didn't used to _____ until recently

I used to _____, but I don't any longer (= I don't anymore)

I used to _____ until my mother told me to stop

Past continuous and Used to bluff Worksheet 2- Presentations

Choose one of the topics below and talk about it for at least two minutes. Again, it can be a true or false story. Your partner won't interrupt you or ask questions, so just keep on talking. When they have finished, they will guess if it is true or false.

A hobby I lost interest in

My oldest possession

A childhood possession I remember well

A concert I went to

A crime I witnessed

A car crash I saw or was in

A time I injured myself

A ceremony I really enjoyed

A nice/ unpleasant surprise

The most frightening thing that has ever happened to me

A concert I went to

A time when I got really lost

The first time I met _____

Try to guess the stories of the people in the book and then listen and check

What can you say when listening to an anecdote to show interest and encourage them to say more without interrupting?