

Do you like categories random pelmanism

Instructions for teachers

Cut up one pack of cards per class or per group of two to four students. Make sure the words can't be seen through the back of the card by making pale copies, using thick paper and/ or using a dark surface such as a wooden table. Ask students to spread the cards face down across the table. One student turns over two cards and tries to get the same answer to "Do you like...?" questions to be able to keep those two cards. For example, if they pick the "characters" and "colours" cards and get "No, I don't", "Yes, I do" or "I don't know" answers to both "Do you like Lucy in Peanuts?" and "Do you like pink hair?", they can keep both cards. If they get a mix of different answers, e.g. one "Yes, I do" answer and one "No, I don't" answer, they have to put the cards back in the same places and play passes to the next person. The game can also be played with questions about people they know such as "Does your mum like cornflakes?" and "Does your teacher like hats?"

Categories cards (to cut up and spread face down over the table) birds	books	breakfast food	bugs candy	characters	clothes/ fashion	cold drinks colours	desserts	exercise	farm animals flavours	food	fruit	games hobbies	hot drinks	household chores	meat movies	music	people	pets places	plants	restaurants	school subjects sea life	seasons	shops	snacks sports	teams	technology	toys

TV programmes	vegetables	weather	wild animals