Dealing with foreign guests meeting criteria board game
Instructions
Put one counter each on the Start square (e.g. an eraser or a coin). Roleplay the situation in that square with your partner. As you are speaking, they will tick the criteria below that you meet. After you finish, you can move one square for each thing that they ticked, e.g. two squares if they only ticked "Giving the right information" and "Being friendly".
Criteria

- Successfully doing the thing the square says
- Giving the right information/ Clear explanations
- Being polite/ Formal language
- Being friendly/ Informal language
- Avoiding silence (speaking fluently, filling all silence, thinking aloud, not pausing too much, etc)
- Using language that you have studied during your course (e.g. in the last lesson)

4. Decide with a colleague where are the best places to take the foreign guest(s) to socialise 	3. Email the guest(s) to explain their accommodation and suggested schedule for their trip	 2. Phone a hotel to book accommodation for your guest(s)	1. START A foreign client phones to say they want to come to your country (for one night/ two days) and meet you
5. Phone the guest(s) to invite them to also socialise in the evening	6. Decide with a colleague what each of you will need to do with the guest(s) while they are here	 7. Meet the guest(s) (for the first time) at the airport	8. Make small talk in the taxi from the airport
12. Give the guest(s) instructions on how to get to the restaurant where you will meet tonight 	11. Give the guest(s) a PowerPoint presentation explaining your company	10. Take the guest (s) on a tour of your company, introducing them to more people during the tour	9. Introduce the foreign guest(s) to your boss
13. Suggest some touristy things they can do in the afternoon until you meet for dinner	14. Meet at the restaurant 	15. Discuss the menu and what to order	16. Make small talk about the food
20. Get a taxi for your guests and say goodbye (because they will fly home early the next morning)	19. Finish the meal and pay	18. Make other small talk 	17. Talk about cultural differences in your country such as table manners

When you finish the game, brainstorm useful phrases for each situation above. Then discuss any cultural differences in the situations above.

downloaded from https://tefltastic.com