

Is it a/ an with adjectives pick and draw

Your partner will make a question using the cards below. If you say "Yes, it is", they will draw that thing. You can also say "No, it isn't. It's..." and change one part of what was in their question. For example, if they ask "Is it a pink nose?", you can reply "No, it isn't. It's a purple nose" or "No, it isn't. It's a pink ear". Blank cards can be used to add your own ideas for other words, e.g. "gold" or "peach". You can't change both parts of what they ask about, so you can't reply with "No, it isn't. It's a purple ear" if no part of that was in the question. Your partner will then draw what you said. Make a question for your partner to answer, draw the right thing, then take turns doing the same. Continue until your teacher stops you, then someone from another group will try to guess what the pictures show with "Is it...?"
