Second conditional ghosts discussion questions

Do the thing or things from this list that your teacher says with the questions below:
- take turns asking one old question and one new question, not looking at the questions when it is your turn to answer
- choose a question, write down what you think tyour partner will say, then ask to check
- analyse the questions below for which things are always included and what the two different forms are
- ask other similar questions

Would you believe it if your friend said that he or she had seen a ghost?

Would you believe it if you saw a video of a ghost on TV?

Would you want to see a ghost if you knew that it was safe?

Would you buy a house if it was half the usual price because there was a ghost in it?

If your house had a ghost in it, would you tell the estate agent when you sold the house?

----------cut----------

Second conditional ghosts discussion questions

Do the thing or things from this list that your teacher says with the questions below:
- take turns asking one old question and one new question, not looking at the questions when it is your turn to answer
- choose a question, write down what you think tyour partner will say, then ask to check
- analyse the questions below for which things are always included and what the two different forms are
- ask other similar questions

Would you believe it if your friend said that he or she had seen a ghost?

Would you believe it if you saw a video of a ghost on TV?

Would you want to see a ghost if you knew that it was safe?

Would you buy a house if it was half the usual price because there was a ghost in it?

If your house had a ghost in it, would you tell the estate agent when you sold the house?

downloaded from https://tefltastic.com