Reasons with Present Perfect Continuous guessing games with language for describing people/ body vocabulary/ feelings vocabulary

Complete at least eight of the sentences below with your own ideas:

Read out the part of one sentence from "because…", and see if your partner can guess which sentence it comes from. Then take turns doing the same.

When your teacher stops you, ask about any sentence stems you weren't sure how to complete, completing them with your own ideas if you can (but not saying how you have done so).

Change partner. Tell them only the start of one of the sentences, e.g. "I feel lonely" and give them hints until they guess what you have written there, then take turns doing the same.

Make up your own sentence starters and endings and play the same game with them.

downloaded from https://tefltastic.com

I have white powder on me because I have been _____

There are bruises on my body because I have been _____

My face is red because I have been _____

I am boiling (hot) because I have been _____

I am freezing (cold) because I have been _____

My eyes hurt because I have been _____

I am smelly because I have been _____

My stomach hurts because I have been _____

My thigh muscles ache because I have been _____

My nose is bleeding because I have been _____

The police have come to arrest me because I have been _____

My family are ashamed because I have been _____

I am crying because I have been _____

I feel lonely because I have been _____

My clothes are dirty because I have been _____

I am sweating because I have been _____

My hair is a mess because I have been _____

I have a black eye because I have been _____

I feel bored because I have been _____

My make up is smudged because I have been _____

My room is messy because I have been _____

My English is much better now because I have been _____

My boss is going to fire me (= give me the sack) because I have been _____

I feel itchy because I have been _____

downloaded from https://tefltastic.com